Ownership originates from the idea of the separated self, and this creates the idea that if I have more, you will have less. In the gifting communities the truth is the opposite. The separated self gets its security from owning. It's a compensation.

-Ownership has a base sin: somebody stole from the whole and said: It's mine. You can buy it. Imagine if the heaven in the afterlife worked the same.

a probléma nem önmagával a magántulajdonnal van, hanem az annak birtoklásából származó tisztességtelen előnyökkel. Még ha rossz is, hogy valakinek haszna van egy valaha közös dolog pusztá tulajdonlásából, abból mindenkinek előnye származik, ha az erőforrások azok felé áramlanak, akik a legjobban tudják őket használni.

Henry George's labour about not giving taxes to everything, and the right for everybody to own the land

Silvio Gesell brought it further: the Earth, the Land can't be separated because it belongs to our body.
